

Hi, I'm Iain.
nice to meet you.

IAIN MONTGOMERY

who I am

Friendly, driven and hard-working,
I'm a problem solver with an eye
for distinctive design.

Working as a freelance designer in Aberdeenshire, I provide creative solutions to companies worldwide. I work collaboratively with startup businesses through to international clients on a variety of projects such as brand creation, website development, video, motion graphics, digital and print design. I also work directly with creative agencies to offer in-house or white-label freelance design and marketing support.

Having worked in a corporate environment as well as being my own boss, I'm a good self-starter with an excellent work ethic and love working as part of a team.

I'm an audio and visual enthusiast, so whether building websites, painting, making motion graphics or producing music, I love creating.

personal

I believe life is for living, so I love to travel, hill walk, paint and balance it all out with an appetite for craft beers, ales and whisky. I'm also interested in philosophy and enjoy expanding my horizons. With an obsession for anything audio-visual, I listen to a lot of music and enjoy watching films (via an overly intricate audiophile home cinema setup).

finally

Although this concise version of my CV displays enough about my skills and history to prompt a discussion, I'm happy to supply numerous character and work references, as well as detailed information about my work history if required.
